

RDP-over-ID

The "RDP-over-ID" feature allows you to connect to a remote computer over the Internet using the RDP protocol even when the remote computer is not directly accessible due to a firewall. Instead, an Internet ID connection is used as an encrypted "tunnel" to facilitate the RDP connection.

This feature is invoked automatically when you connect in the RDP mode using Internet ID connection type.

Related articles

- Connection modes: RDP
- Getting Started: Connecting over the Internet \(attended-only\)
- Getting Started: Connecting over the Internet \(unattended\)
- Host settings: Internet-ID settings

URL: <https://www.remoteutilities.com/support/docs/rdp-over-id/>